

Çeltikçi

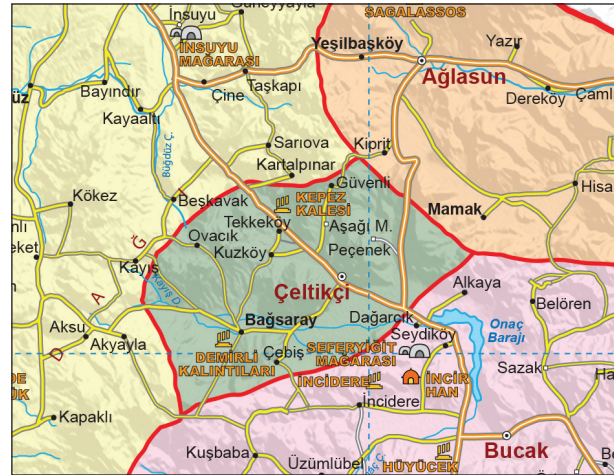

Çeltikçi was founded in 1725's. With the settlement of a family of Koklan Beys in this region, the first foundations of the present Konak District were laid. In the following years it was named Çeltikçi due to the cultivation of rice in the region, as 'rice' means 'çeltik' in Turkish. A municipality was established in 1968 due to the increase in population. With the law enacted in 1990 Çeltikçi became a district. It currently has 4,974 inhabitants.
